Army Exhibits Enemy Aerial Equipment On Campus Next Week

Making its first appearance in California, the Army Air Force's "Shot From The Sky" exhibit of captured German and Jap airplanes and aerial equipment will be set up on the south campus of San Jose State college for two days starting November 29, it was announced today by Lt. Edward M. Cogswell, officer-in-charge of arrangements for the exhibit. Sponsored by the San Jose Chamber of Commerce, this free exhibit is the largest collection of Axis equipment ever shown in this country.

Sgt. Robert Kane, of the Public Relations Staff in the United States Army visited the campus yesterday to provide publicity for the exhibit. The show is now being exhibited in Portland, Oregon.

THEME

"Buy war bonds and stay on your war job until victory" will be the theme of the exhibit here and as part of Santa Clara county's Sixth War Loan drive bonds will be sold on the grounds. Also the exhibit will stimulate WAC recruiting in the Santa Clara area.

Staged at Japan's and Germany's expense, "Shot From The Sky" features several Jap fighter planes, a Mitsubishi bomber, a German Junkers-88, German Messerschmitt fighters, Axis airplane engines and

Sophs Plan Mixer At Council Meeting

Theme for the Soph-Frosh mixer has not yet been decided, although most of the plans for the contest were worked out at the sophomore council meeting yesterday.

"There's still lots of work to be done in the Red Cross Room before the mixer," warned class prexy June Robertson. "So let's get in and get busy, sophs."

When it was reported that the sophomore women are leading the frosh, 273 hours to 130, she commented that over-confidence is out of place, since there are still two weeks in which the freshmen can put in time.

The discussion of council pins had to be carried over to next week's meeting because of a lack of time for further discussion.

WORKERS NEEDED IN RED CROSS RM.

With a quota of 200 pairs of pajamas to be made by the campus unit of the Red Cross, only 20 pairs have been made to date, according to Joanne O'Brien, student co-chairman of the campus unit.

Miss O'Brien urges all women to plan to come in regularly and sew in the Red Cross workroom, in order that the quota may be completed on time.

Organizations have already accepted three layettes to be made, and one more layette may be had by any organization desiring it. Credit is given for this work, the co-chairman stated.

WINTER MIST IS THEME OF DANCE

"Winter Mist" Christmas dance plans are now well under way, according to the Social Affairs committee which met yesterday at 4 o'clock in the Student Union.

The dance will be held in the San Jose Woman's club on Eleventh street from 9 to 1 o'clock. Bob Kent's ten-piece orchestra is scheduled to play for the occasion, and they will feature a vocalist.

Jim Howie, who is in charge of the entertainment, announces that a half hour of pleasant surprises are in store, including a boogie woogie number for piano and drums and the introduction of a new song.

This will be the first student body formal of the year, and the last dance of the quarter. Admission to the dance is by ASB card; those without cards must pay an admission price of 75 cents. One member of each couple must be a student body card holder. The dance is a date affair, and souvenir bids will be given at the door.

Bonnie Gartshore and Elaine Chadburne are co-chairmen of the decorations committee, and Midge Doyle is in charge of arrangements for the punch.

APPLICATIONS FOR REVELRIES OPEN

Applications for the positions of assistant director and stage manager of Spartan Revelries should be placed in the R-box on the organizations side in the co-op before 5 o'clock on Wednesday, November 29, announces Marina Jacobsen, director.

These appointments are made by Leah Hardcastle, business manager; Hugh Gillis, faculty adviser; and Miss Jacobsen.

Deadline for applications for music director and dance director is Monday, December 4, at 5 o'clock. Any students may apply for these posts.

The date for this year's Revelries will be announced later.

Mrs. Rideout Speaks At Institute Today

"Teaching of English Composition in Junior High and High School" is the topic of a talk to be given this morning at the Palo Alto teachers' institute by Mrs. Charlotte Rideout, associate professor of English.

Mrs. Rideout has taught a course under that title at University of California during three summer sessions. Her institute talk will be given at Palo Alto High school, where city teachers are holding their annual sessions.

ORGANIZATIONS SIGN UP NOW FOR GRIPE DINNER DEC. 4

Organizations should sign up this week for tickets to the 1944 Gripe dinner to be held December 4 at Lucca's Cafe, announces Hugh Johnston, chairman for the affair.

Tickets are available in the Business office, where organizations should turn in the names of the members who plan to represent them at the dinner.

No faculty members are present at the dinner, and the object of the function is to air student suggestions for improvements at the college. Johnston stresses the practical nature of the affair, by pointing out the results of last year's Gripe dinner which had the date book and student body equipment as its main complaints. Both of these situations have been remedied as a result of the discussion at the dinner, Johnston reports.

Newman Club Elects Officers At Meeting

Officers for the current quarter and winter quarter were chosen Thursday night at the weekly meeting of the Newman club, Catholic students' organization.

Pat Keating and Ed McKay were named president and vice president respectively. Other officers elected were Patricia Doyle, secretary; Madeline Revolino, treasurer; Al Foster, sergeant-at-arms; and Edna Fannuchi, reporter. Adviser for the group is Father Schirle of St. Patrick's parish.

The club decided to hold meetings every other Thursday at 7:30 p. m., and to keep Newman Hall, 75 South Fifth street, open each Thursday to afford recreation to members of the club. Date for the next meeting was set at November 30.

Plans for a Christmas dance were discussed, and price for the bids was set at $1.00.

SENIORS' WINTER DANCE DISCUSSED AT CLASS MEET

Discussion of the plans for the senior class' winter dressy-sport dance dominated the class meeting yesterday noon. The dance, which will be held in January, will be a typical winter affair and the decorations will carry out the cold weather theme.

Marilyn Wilson and Bee Ballard, president and secretary of the class, were chosen to represent the group at the Gripe Dinner on December 4.

December 11, Monday night, the bean feed will be held in the Student Center. Food will be prepared by the Home Economics department. Marilynn Wilson urges all seniors to keep the date open and to plan to attend this informal affair. She promises all who are present an evening of fun, food, and entertainment.

Senior meetings are held every Tuesday at 12:30 in room 110. All seniors are invited to attend the meetings. Plans for the next quarter's activities are to be discussed in future meetings.

THETA MU INITIATION

Theta Mu Sigma fraternity held its formal initiation of pledges last Wednesday night. The initiation was celebrated at a dinner at Lucca's.

The new brothers of Theta Mu Sigma are Art Huneven, Bill Leftland, Bob Gustafson, Bob Smith, Cecil Dombalian, Art Bond, Tom Wyman, Ken Black, Harold Hyman, Norm Healy, and John Rawley.

Prexy Phil Clark presided over the affair. The meeting was closed by the singing of the fraternity hymn.

Old members present included Bob Gallon, Howard Riddle, Bob Mitchell, Rex Maddy, John Coray, Phil Clark, and Jerry Evans.

Breakfast Cereals Theme Of Exhibit

"Variety in Breakfast Cereals" is the theme of the present exhibit in the Home Economics building.

The exhibit shows the many forms of hot and cold wheat, corn, oats, and rice breakfast cereals. It also demonstrates the variety of ways in which cereals can be prepared for breakfast.

This exhibit is a project in Dr. Margaret Jones' course of methods of teaching home economics and was made by Virginia McCue, senior home economics major.

Campus Drives

Drives have become a characteristic of campus life. We have had everything from the War Chest to food for the USO, and we shall probably continue to have drives. There's the point.

The constant carrying-on of these campaigns may sooner or later cause them to be overlooked as just "one of those things". However, each one of these projects has had an important objective, and all have deserved the wholehearted support of everyone on-campus.

There are more drives coming up and some in progress now. Of these the War Bond campaign will be one of the most important. Don't feel that the "edge has been taken off". Each drive is something new and has a purpose.

This is one of those occasions when we must use that well-worn but so-true phrase, "do your part!"

—Teresi.

JUNIOR CLASS STAGES RALLY PARADE; SCARECROW BURNED AFTER SKIRMISH

Spirit is not dead on San Jose State campus! This was amply proven by the noon activities in preparation for the Junior-Senior mixer of last evening.

At 12:30 yesterday members of the junior council carried a large poster done in colored chalk down to the Library arch, where the Parrish drum corps stood pounding out martial rhythms.

SCARECROW RENAMED

While enthusiastic juniors and a crowd of other interested spectators watched, two council members took the scarecrow the seniors had hung from the balcony of the arch and changed the lettering on the pants to read "Seniors" across the seat, and "Foey" and "Sink 'em" on the legs.

Then the juniors took up their sign and paraded behind the drum corps through the Quad and the hallways and back to the Library. There they discovered that a senior had mounted the balcony and turned the scarecrow around so it read again "Poor Juniors."

ON BALCONY

Action developed at once, as the juniors tried to mount the stairs, but the gate had been locked. Not daunted, they raced around through the Library halls, up the stairs, and out onto the balcony. The ensuing skirmish saw shoes, if nothing more, removed and thrown to the crowd waiting below.

The scarecrow was torn down and removed to the Coop, where it reposed on a stool in the corner until junior class members decided to dispose of the stuffed shirt senior character with a burning ceremony. With the proper dispatch, this was done, and the scarecrow went up in smoke in front of the Quad.

He was one of the first Negro officers commissioned from the Bay area and is a member of the first all-Negro fighter group in the AAF. His outfit, under Col. Benjamin Davis, is flying Mustang fighters on escort missions over Germany and German-occupied territory in Austria, Jugoslavia, and Italy.

Harold T. Johnson, former State student from Hayward, has been promoted from the rank of lieutenant to lieutenant commander in the USNR. Lieut.-Comdr. Johnson is a flight instructor in a PBV (Catalina) patrol bomber training squadron on the Jacksonville, Fla., Naval Air Station. Before his assignment to Jacksonville, he saw active duty flying night patrols in the big black-painted flying boats, familiarly called "Black Cats."

LETTERS

Dear Editor:

"Kindly place me on the Daily mailing list for this year. I've certainly appreciated keeping contact with all former Staters through the paper.

"Lt. Frank Lavoie, '40, is also at this base—met him yesterday. I also met Gus "Chubby" Knotta in Santa Ana last summer while stationed there. Chubby, you know, bailed out over Germany.

"I taught the Maps and Charts course at Santa Ana Army Air Base and since it has folded, we are now at Victorville.

"Art Carpenter, 1939, former teammate and classmate of mine at State, was one of my students at pre-flight. Art's getting pretty well along in years, and I was surprised to see him as a cadet.

"I noticed in the Alumni Bulletin that Joe De Brum, '34, is referred to as a lieutenant. Joe is now a major and is organizing overseas educational programs."

Yours truly,

"BUZZ" BOMB

Recently added to the exhibit is a mock-up of a robot "buzz" bomb like those that have been terrorizing England since last summer. The wingspread on this flying bomb is 9 feet and it is nearly 13 feet long. A WAC narrator will describe the workings of the "buzz" bomb to visitors.

A Link Trainer, miniature airplane that simulates actual flying conditions and is used by the AAF to teach pilots "blind flying", will be in operation. Visitors buying war bonds or signing up for war jobs will be given a free ride in the "Link".

Salvaged lumber and other materials have been used to display the various exhibits which will be presented openly so visitors may examine closely the high quality of enemy production and compare it with our own.

GUIDES

Nearly a hundred WACs and soldiers with "Shot From The Sky" will prepare displays, serve as guides, and describe the numerous pieces of equipment to visitors. The soldiers are all returned combat men and represent every combat air force in the AAF except the newly formed 20th Air Force.

Radio and stage personalities from in and around San Jose will appear on the program and music will be furnished by several Army and Navy bands from stations near here.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

BY WARREN BRADY

The high-flying Spartan grid machine chalked up its eleventh straight victory last Friday night in the huge Gilmore stadium, Los Angeles, by defeating the strong Loyola Lions, 10-0. State's hopes for a bowl game were kept alive as the gridgers got over one of their toughest games of the season. Only Fresno State and Drake university stand between the Spartans and an undefeated season.

If the Degroot-Warner outfit can get over Fresno State next week-end, the California Collegiate Conference championship will be theirs. The Fresno State Bulldogs at this time are also undefeated in conference play.

State's first score Friday night came when Ken Cook, first string guard was pulled out of the line to attempt a field goal from twenty yards out. With Aubrey Minter holding, Cook's boot split the uprights and State had a 3-0 lead. This all occurred in the opening quarter.

The second quarter saw the Spartans get their first and only touchdown, although several other drives fell only a few yards short. The touchdown came in the second quarter on a sixty-five yard march. Carlton Peregoy and Herm Zetterquist were prominent during the drive, with Zetterquist taking a double reverse and sweeping Loyola's left end for five yards and a touchdown. Ken Cook made good the extra point making State's total 10.

Friday night in our college pool, the Spartan water polo team under the leadership of Captain Frank Savage, soundly defeated San Francisco J. C., 10-4. Savage himself tallied seven of the Spartan's ten goals, with Jim Curran, Martin Wempe, and John Hatch completing the scores.

The win gave the State team a perfect record in their own pool this season. Earlier in the year, they upset University of California, U. of Stanford, and the Athens club.

The only mar on their record that season was a 8-8 deadlock with the Olympic club of San Francisco. Incidentally, (I am now speaking of the present) the Olympic club, the only club to tie our powerful outfit of 1939, was last Friday night defeated by our "war-time" polo team, 6-5.

Of course, it wasn't the same team that faced Sparta five years ago, but they always have a strong aggregation. So perhaps the caliber of ball played this year isn't so bad-after all, huh?

Race Relations committee of SCA meets today, 12 noon, at Varsity House. Bring your lunch and we'll chew the rag.

PROVINCE MEETING

The bi-annual Province meeting of the Newman club was held last Sunday at Newman Hall in Berkeley.

The San Jose branch of the club was represented at this meeting by President Pat Keating and Patricia Doyle, newly elected secretary, accompanied by the group's adviser, the Rev. Father Schirle of St. Patrick's parish.

The Newman club convention, recently held at the University of Chicago, was described to the group which discussed club and province activities.
